Comparison of Youth-Guided, Youth-Driven, and Youth-Directed at the Individual, Community, and Policy Level

Retrieved from http://www.nmsoc.org/images/Youth%20Guided.pdf
Developed using the Thrive Initiative's Youth Involvement Checklist (2009).

We proposed that the process of moving from youth guided, to youth directed, to youth driven happens at 3 levels: youth involvement at the individual youth level, the community and policy making level. This list illustrates what should be happening at each stage in the process as the young person makes their transition into adulthood.

** Youth should be young people who have experience as consumers and are or would be the youth served in a system of care community.

Youth Guided

Youth Guided Youth is engaged in the idea that change is possible in his or her life and Individual the systems that serve him or her. Youth need to feel safe, cared for, valued, useful and spiritually grounded. The program needs to enable youth to learn and build skills that allow them to function and give back in their daily lives. There is a development and practice of leadership and advocacy skills, and a place where equal partnership is valued. Youth are empowered in their planning process from the beginning and have a voice in what will work for them. Youth receive training on systems players, their right, purpose of the system and youth involvement and development opportunities. Youth Guided Community partners and stakeholders have: Community An open minded viewpoint and there are decreased stereotypes about youth. Prioritized youth involvement and input during planning and/or meetings. A desire to involve youth. Begun stages of partnership with youth. Begun to use language supporting youth engagement. Taken the youth view and opinion into account. A minimum of one youth partner with experience and/or expertise in the systems represented. Begun to encourage and listen to the views and opinions of the involved youth, rather than minimize their importance. Created open and safe spaces for youth. Youth are compensated for their work. Youth Guided Youth are invited to meetings. Policy Training and support is provided for youth on what the meeting is about. Youth and board are beginning to understand the role of youth at the policy- making level. Youth can speak on their experiences (even if it is not in perfect form) and

- talk about what's really going on with young people.
- Adults value what youth have to say in an advisory capacity.
- Youth have limited power in decision making.
- Youth have an appointed mentor who is a regular attendee of the meetings and makes sure that the youth feels comfortable to express his or herself and clearly understands the process.
- Youth are compensated for their work.
